Metropolitan Washington Airports Authority Selects Krauthamer & Associates to Conduct Executive Search

The Board of Directors has selected Krauthamer & Associates to conduct the executive search to fill the position of President and CEO of the Airports Authority.

Board Chairman, Charles D. Snelling observed that, “We are in a very good position to conduct this executive search in a thorough, thoughtful and deliberate way since we have a strong management team currently led by Lynn Hampton who is serving as President and CEO during this transitional period.”

Krauthamer & Associates will work under the direction of the Legal and Governance Committee chaired by Jack Andrew Garson. That Committee will work with the firm to determine the parameters of the search and the process by which the Board will make a selection.

Based in the greater Washington DC area, Krauthamer & Associates (www.krauthamerinc.com) is an executive search firm with nearly 40 years of recruitment experience. K&A serves multiple industries, including aviation and transportation, and has conducted more than 3,500 senior-level executive searches and board of director appointments for businesses around the world.
