Metropolitan Washington Airports Authority

The Metropolitan Washington Airports Authority (MWAA) is constructing a 23-mile extension of the existing Metrorail system, which will be operated by the Washington Metropolitan Area Transit Authority. The system will be constructed from East Falls Church to Washington Dulles International Airport, west to Ashburn, Virginia. The extension will serve Tysons Corner, Virginia's largest employment center, and the Reston Herndon area, the state's second largest employment concentration. And, it will provide a no-transfer ride from Washington Dulles International Airport to downtown Washington, D.C.
